In a decision handed down Saturday, the supreme court sustained the eight hour law limiting the employment of women, and reversed the judgment of the lower court in the case of the State vs. the Dominion Hotel company of Globe.

There is not a vacant house in town and every day people renew the search for a place of residence until they can build a suitable habitation. It would pay well to build twenty or thirty houses for rent in Kingman, as they would be occupied as soon as the finishing touches were put on them.

Special agents of the United States Land Office are at work in Cochise county rounding up parties that are cutting mesquite wood on government land who are not paying for the same and also those who are buying it from them. Wood found in their possession is seized and the parties fined according to the amount of wood found in their possession. —Tombstone Prospector.

Because he lost his temper when his stupidity and lack of knowledge of essential facts of American law and custom were brought to light, an Austrian applicant for citizenship cursed in the presence of Judge A. C. Lockwood of the Cochise county superior court Monday. Not alone was he given a severe reprimand by the court but his petition was denied "with prejudice," on account of his contemptuous action, and he was admonished by the court never to appear again seeking citizenship. —Douglas Dispatch.

Claims are made for the discovery of big bodies of hubnerite ores in the Hillside country, in western Yavapai county, but it is probable that the claims are the usual one emanating from parties who know nothing of the metal. Tungsten ores seldom occur in vast bodies, which fact gives value to the ore. Were it found in quantity like iron it would have the same value, or less, as its uses are not so great. In Colorado big deposits of tungsten were found, but it was so low in value that large milling plants had to be erected to recover it. These deposits do not average over one per cent.

This week C. W. Miller is establishing his camp in the Colorado river, below the Santa Fe railroad bridge, where he has a contract to put in the heavy concrete abutments for the automobile bridge to be built by the Kansas City Structural Steel Company for the government and the states of Arizona and California, and which will form the connecting link of the National Old Trails road between the two states. Mr. Miller expects to have the piers completed to take the steel girders by the latter part of November, and the bridge will be completed by the first of January. —Miner.

New Secretary at State Pen.

Jesse C. Wanslee, secretary of the state prison at Florence, yesterday tendered his resignation to the board of control, which was accepted and appointed Oscar Cole of Tucson, secretary of the senate during the second legislature, his successor.

Wanslee, who was appointed secretary in March, 1912, resigned to complete his law course in an eastern university. Oscar Cole, his successor, is one of the most prominent young democrats in the state, having been president of the Young Men's Democratic club at Tucson, and taken active interest in the political affairs of the state. He will enter upon his new duties immediately. —Prospector.
